

Resources for surgical masks, hand sanitizer, gloves and more

While the medical community is still in dire need of personal protective equipment (PPE), we know your store team members and shoppers also need to feel safe and protected. IGA is working to identify reliable sources who can supply PPE to your stores. We have compiled the below list from a variety of sources, and while we have done our best to ensure these are reputable options for ordering, we have not personally seen the product from any of these companies, and availability/pricing changes by the minute. With that in mind, we strongly encourage all retailers to complete their own due diligence before ordering. Also please note that many vendors—both on this list and those that you might find on your own—are accepting all orders, but understandably filling the requests of medical professionals first.

Please note, this list does not contain any N95 masks. IGA China was able to keep their employees safe by using 3-ply surgical masks only. With the medical community's needs in mind, IGA is working to secure thousands of masks and other PPE, as they become available, to donate to FEMA in the name of our Hometown Proud retailers and their shoppers.

This list will be updated as additional resources become available. Last updated April 6, 2020.
